

This is what the front-end powered by flask looks like. We have to upload a valid mp3 file and click on the Upload and Get Summary button for starting the application.

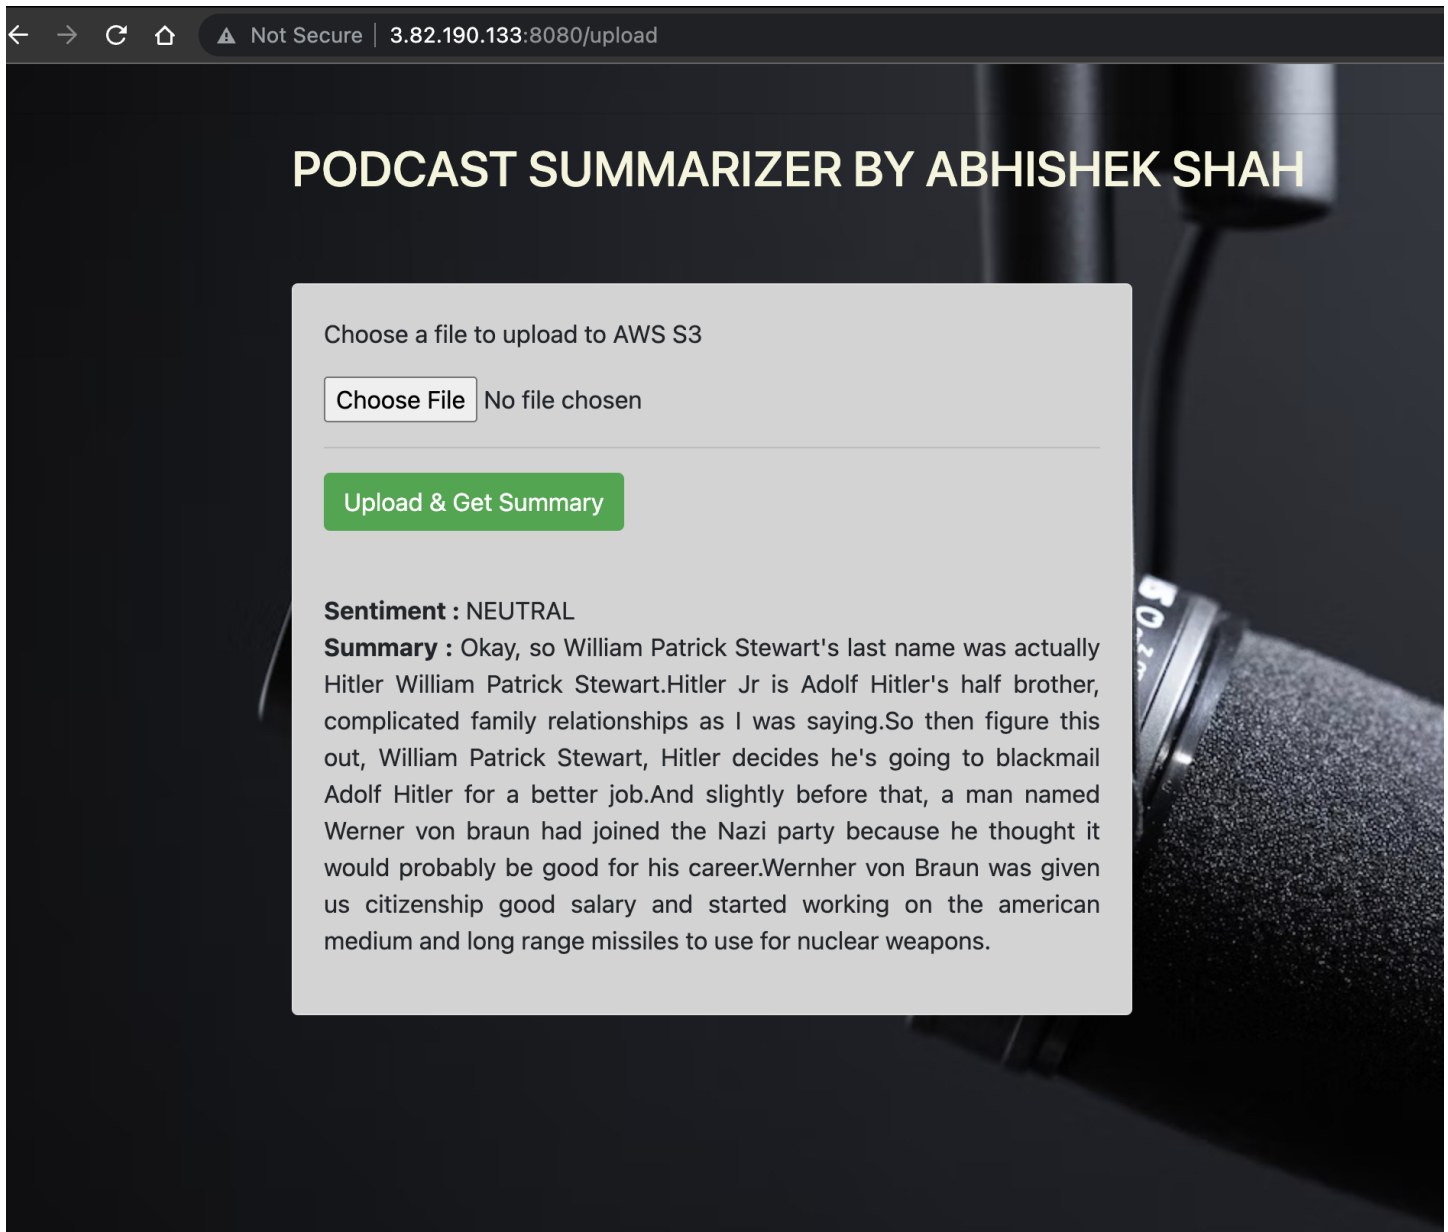

Once the file is uploaded the processing starts and this is how the application looks like while it's retrieving the output for the user.

For this example, I use a podcast: The Nephew and the Rocket Man which is a podcast on William Patrick Stewart who is a cousin of Adolf Hitler. The podcast used is approximately 10 minutes long.

This is what the summary and the sentiment of the summary look like.
